Along the western battle line, as well as on the mountain and Piave sector of the Italian front, the allied armies await further enemy efforts. Infantry activity is confined to local actions at various points. On the vital stretch of the battle front between Ypres and Rheims the most important action of the past few days has been that in which the American has been that in which the American troops took from the Germans a commanding hill position near Belleau wood, northwest of Chateau Thierry. Besides gaining the hill the Americans took 264 pricess. Besides gaining the nill the Americans took 264 prisoners, including seven officers. From the hill the Americans dominate the German positions for some distance beyond in the direction of Toray.

It is believed that the German command is about ready to launch another stroke against the allied lines. The activity remains bout normal on mportant sectors, but aerial fighting has increased markedly.

Thirty six German machines were brought down or forced to land in a damaged condition Tuesday by Fran-co-British airmen, while Berlin claims the destruction of twelve allied airships the same day. German airplanes raided Paris Wednesday night.

"AUSTRIA KAPUTT," SAYS AMSTERDAM; EXCHANGE SLUMPS

Drops Six Points on Bourse.

(By Cyril Brown.) [Copyright, 1918, by New York World.] Amsterdam, June 24 .- A combination of the crushing Austrian defeat, the resignation of the Von Seydler cabinet and the bloodshed in Budapest caused s sensation on the well-informed Amsterdam bourse. Austrian exchange broke 6 points, marking one of the lowest levels reached during the blackest days of war for Austria. German ex-change showed a sympathetic slump. The canny Dutch incline to the view that the present events mark the be-correspondents today heard expressed in financial circles. (Kaputt-ruined, smashed, up a tree.-Muret-Sanders smasned, up a tree.—Muret-Sanders dictionary.)

The resignation of the Von Seydler cabinet did not come unexpectedly. In itself it is of no great importance, political circles regarding it as a matter of form. Great symptomatic importance attaches to it, however, since it will now force the hand of Emperor. will now force the hand of Emperor Charles, who cannot procrastinate very much longer.

While his armies were retreating from the Piave, Emperor Charles beat a strategic retreat from the front and returned posthaste to Vienna. Charles, now hard pressed, still is temporizing and has not accounted the resignation and has not accepted the resignation of the cabinet. Every possible means of reaching a political compromise will be exhausted.

The question agitating all Austria and political Germany today is if the efforts to patch up party differences fall, as now seems probable, will Emperor Charles accept the resignation of the Seydler cabinet and accept a prethe Seydler cabinet and accept a pre-mier and cabinet acceptable to the solid, overwhelming majority of the opposition, composed of Poles, Slavs and German-Austrian socialists? Drāmatic changes, upon which even specialists will not hazard a guess, hinge on what the morrow may bring forth.

The utmost indignation has been aroused in high German quarters by statements of Count Tisza, Hungary's most powerful statesman, who, in dismost powerful statesman, who, in discussing German Vice-Chancellor Von Payer's proposals for extending and strengthening the alliance between Germany and the central empires, declared Hungary would not be "a party to an alliance on Von Payer's terms."

Count Tisza's assertion that Von Payer's proposals involved conditions that could not be accepted by Hungary and that Von Payer "must revise his and that Von Payer "must revise his terms if he is serious regarding an al-liance with Hungary" because the Magyars do not desire to come under the German yoke, prompted the Berlin Vossische Zeitung to say:

"Tisza's speech naturally occasioned a certain amount of resentment in political circles. Tisza's somewhat irri-table attitude against Von Payer's forman statesman ever dreamed of tampering with Hungary's independence."

The Vossische, obviously inspired, calls on Hungarian statesmen to express themselves intelligently regarding the sovereign rights which lungary wants to see respected by Ger-

NOT HOPE TOO MUCH FROM

French Official Warning Says People Are Submissive. Will Not Revolt.

(Associated Press.) Paris, June 27 .- Austria is in serious difficulties, but there is great danger in hoping too much from them, says a French official summary commenting on the situation in the dual monarchy. Little hope is seen in the possibility of a successful revolt. Austria cannot negotiate a separate peace and it would be "a bad policy to extend a hand to her now."

"It is admitted in responsible cir-es," the statement reads, "that the news from Austria reveals a very serious and troubled situation in that country, but it would be a great dan-ger for the allies to exaggerate the importance of possible consequences. Austria has allies who could easily provide the troops necessary to reestablish order if revolts arise.

"The Austrians are submissive and have not the energy to start a strong revolutionary movement. Besides the two trouble making elements in country could not combine easily. In Vienna, the labor party is German, while in Budapest it is Magyar. Their claims are quite different from the nationalist claims of the Czech-Slovaks and other races and no union between them is likely.
"The army itself is never influenced by labor trouble and it is always possible to oppose the latter by mere military force

"Austria is in no way ready to negotiate separately, but as an ally of Ger-many, she is only a dead weight. It would be a bad policy to extend a hand to her now for our attitude would be used against the nations which stand against her. It is our interest to support these nations in their claims."

MINIMUM GERMAN WAR PROGRAM FORMED

Berlin Papers Deem It Would Have Been Better If Secretary Had Been Silent.

Amsterdam, June 26 (Wednesday),-Germany's minimum program for peace discussions was formulated by Foreign Secretary Von Kuehlmann in his speech to the reichstag, says the Koelnische Volks Zeitung. The foreign secretary, it adds, demanded nothing that goes beyond Germany's vital necessities or that vitally threatens other countries. The Germania of Berlin considers that the speech opens wide the field for peace discussions and says it keen-

Meanwhile Austria's defeat must have internal consequences unless she can renew her offensive with success in the all along had her principal reserves.

Fortunately there is no like-lihood that the Italians, carried away by their triumph, will make any rash advance. The World is assured that the Italian high command can be re-lied upon to guard against any-thing like surprise from the mountains.

The paper contends that recognition of the present territory of Germany and her allies is a self-evident condition of peace, while freedom of the seas and of trade also are of the highest importance. Germany's colonies must be restored.

The Vossische Zeitung says the speech confirms the idea that for the foreign secretary an understanding
